SCHOOL BOND ISSUE CARRIES BY VOTE OF
NEARLY FOUR TO ONEProposition Received 1905 Votes at Monday's Election Favoring Issue to 505 Against It

LIGHT VOTE WAS CAST IN THE VARIOUS PRECINCTS

Favorable Action Means That New School Buildings
Will be Pushed to Rapid Completion in North, South and West Newark---Tabulation of Votes Was Completed at an Early Hour.

The special School Bond election held yesterday when the proposal to issue bonds in the sum of $93,000 for the construction of three new school buildings, was put up to the people of Newark, carried by the comfortable majority of 1,400 votes. The vote cast was less than 40 per cent of the total voting strength of the city.

The favorable action of the people on this bond issue means that the Board of Education may now go ahead with their plans for improving the schools of the city. They propose to relieve the congested conditions in the North and South End and in West Newark.

While the vote cast yesterday was very light, it indicated that the majority of those interested in the proposition, were progressives in the matter of education. Only two precincts in the city returned a majority against the bond issue. These were precinct D of the First Ward, which returned a majority of 5 against the proposition, and Precinct 2 of the second, with a majority of 2 against the bond issue.

The biggest majority in favor of the issue was returned in Precinct A of the Sixth ward, where there was but one opposing vote out of 167 cast. The special school district taking in the parts of the township just north of the corporation line, also produced but one dissenting vote.

No election in recent years was reported as quickly as this special election. The first precinct reported five minutes after the polls closed and by 7 o'clock every precinct had been reported and the tabulation made.

There was considerable interest in the election and soon after the polls closed the election headquarters and the newspaper offices were besieged with telephone inquiries, asking the result.

According to the tentative plan of the school board, one new building will be erected south of the railroad, one will go up in West Newark and the third will be built in the North End.

The need for schools in these parts of town has been realized for several years. Particularly in North and West Newark has this need been occasioned by the rapidly growing additions to the city. School facilities which a few years ago were entirely adequate, were found to be too small to accommodate the many children growing up in the neighborhood.

In South Newark, two school buildings that were not enough in construction and not large enough to take care of the youngsters of school age, have been overcrowded. The board plans to abandon the two buildings and construct one which will give more rooms than the two combined. The new building, will of course, be strictly modern in its appointments, regarding heating, ventilation and sanitation.

In West Newark where the board abandoned an old building several years ago, shortly after the construction of the new West End building, it was found necessary to re-purchase the old building to take care of the rapidly increasing number of children of school age. In addition to this it was necessary to rent a store room to provide additional rooms for the little ones.

The sites for the buildings have not been selected, but this will be done soon and the board will carefully guard the interest of the taxpayers in this election. If necessary the board will resort to condemnation proceedings so the city may not be "held up" by the property owner.

The abstract of yesterday's vote is as follows:

SENATOR ANDREWS DENIES TAKING BRIBE FROM SMILEY

Columbus, March 12.—The taking of testimony in the case of the state of Ohio vs. Senator L. R. Andrews on a trial for the alleged acceptance of a bribe of $200 for his vote on the Cetone-Whittemore Insurance bill was completed this afternoon and the jury was taken to the rooms in the hotel for today.

The attorneys for the defense will prepare the special charges which they desire Judge Dillon shall incorporate in the general charge to the jury at the close of the arguments. According to agreement, the arguments tomorrow will be limited to three hours for each side and will begin at 3 o'clock.

The state will open followed by the defense and then the state will close. Judge Dillon is expected to deliver his charge to the jury tomorrow afternoon late and then the case will go to the jury.

This afternoon Clarence Walker, official stenographer of the constitutional convention was called as a witness by the state and asked concerning his experiments with the dictagraph.

Columbus, March 12.—Denying for the third time on the stand that he had at any time accepted money for his vote, Senator Andrews today took the stand in his trial for the alleged acceptance of a $200 bribe.

Today he was questioned by the prosecution as to what happened at the hotel, where the bribe is supposed to have been accepted. The defense, by roundabout methods, tried to show that the alleged conspiracy never existed.

The senator said that on the morning of April 12 Frank Harrison Smiley had telephoned him and that the telephone line was very bad and that he had understood the detective's name to be "Harrington."

Later the defense introduced L. C. Smith, legislative agent for the Railroad Conductors' Union, to prove that during a conference with Andrews he had mentioned him as Harrington. This, the defense declared, knocked the Diegel conspiracy into "a cocked hat." They claimed that if Diegel had acted as a go-between, the detective and Andrews, that the latter would have known the pronunciation of the detective's name.

The line of questions adopted by the defense brought the worst clash between the attorneys so far. "This evidence is not competent," said Prosecutor Turner.

"I thought you wanted to try the case fairly," said Attorney Huling. "We do want to try it fairly," roared Turner; "far fairer than you do."

Huling turned his back to Turner and walked to his table. During the questioning the attorneys for the state asked Andrews concerning a canal inspection trip by Senator Andrews and others before the alleged bribery took place. Andrews was unable to remember whether Diegel was one of the party. Andrews admitted one of his Ironton friends, previous to his meeting with Smiley, had considered statistics against the Cetone insurance bill, then in his friend's possession, but that he had never seen these.

Prosecutor Turner made a point that Andrews had granted an audience to a total stranger on the bill, but failed to grant a hearing to a personal friend. Andrews replied that the friend was an agent for an old line insurance company and that he had deferred talking the matter over with him, as "there was plenty of time."

Bangor, Belfast and Biddeford also elected Democratic executives, while Brewer was captured by the Republicans.

W. B. Watkins and Manager Grim
Here Today.

President W. H. Watkins of the Indianapolis club, President Frank G. Warden of the Newark Ohio State league club and Manager John H. Grim arrived in Newark Tuesday and are quartered at the Warden Hotel. Mr. Watkins and Manager Grim arrived shortly after noon and President Warden came in earlier in the day.

Manager Grim is on his first trip to Newark as a manager, though he played baseball here several years ago while with the Brooklyn team. He announced the signing of several new men, among them being Harry Utricht, a southpaw pitcher, and Leo Johannes, a fast infielder who will probably play third base.

The manager also announced additional playing dates for the Newark club's training season. They are with Youngstown, April 14 and 15. This fills up the training season from April 10 to April 23. The season opens April 24.

The schedule has not been drafted yet as the league officials are waiting until the membership of the league is determined. Lancaster is striving to land in the league and another city will be secured to make the circuit one of eight clubs.

Mr. Watkins and Manager Grim will remain in the city over Wednesday and will arrange the details for the reporting of the players here April 10.

DOESN'T WORRY
GARY HERMANN

Cincinnati, March 12.—Congressman Gallagher's resolution for an investigation of the so-called Baseball Trust was characterized as a joke by August Hermann, president of the National Baseball Commission.

"I don't know what he means," said Hermann, "unless it is a joke. There is no Baseball Trust and from the nature of the game there never can be. The commission doesn't fix prices. Different prices are charged in different cities. There can be an investigation at any time without any objection from the National Commission."

POLICE FIGHT WITH STRIKERS

Berlin, March 12.—A collision between the strikers, police and non-unionists occurred in six or eight of the localities today. The most serious outbreak was near Hambrone, where 2000 strikers fought with the police, throwing stones and firing revolvers. Forty police guards were injured. The guards were forced to draw the sabers on the crowds, injuring many.

JUDGE JAMES PRICE
FELL DEAD IN HOTEL
AT A HEALTH RESORT

Columbus, Ohio, March 12.—Judge J. L. Price, of Lima, Ohio, a member of the Supreme Court of Ohio, died suddenly last evening at 6 o'clock at a Martinsville, Ind., sanitarium of heart trouble. He had been at the sanitarium for several weeks, and had been feeling so well that he notified local friends he would be here in a few days. His wife and granddaughter, Miss Nellie Price, were at Martinsville with him. The body was shipped to Lima today.

Judge Price was entering the dining room when he collapsed. Two physicians, who were in the room at the time, reached his side in a moment, but life was extinct. He is survived by a widow and one son, Charles F. Price.

Ten years to within a few days had passed from the time Judge Price took his place on the bench of the Ohio Supreme Court until he was forced by failing health to abandon it early in February.

The passing away of Judge Price will present the opportunity to Governor Harmon of appointing a member of the Supreme Court bench, who will serve until his successor is qualified.

As Judge Price died more than 30 days before the regular election his successor will be named at the next state convention of the political parties, who will name two candidates for the six-year term and one for the term ending February 9, 1914. Persons nominated by petition will have to specify which of the terms they desire.

It being inferred that Governor Harmon will name a Democrat, the court for the first time in many years will not be partisan. Judges Spear Shaukel and Davis are Republicans and Johnson and Donahue are Democrats, and the adding of an additional Democrat, will make the tribunal exactly balanced.

At the last state convention the leading candidate next to the winners was Judge Edward Kibler of Newark.

Columbus, March 12.—Out of respect to the memory of J. J. Price of Lima, O., the supreme court of Ohio adjourned until next Tuesday. In cases for hearing all the arguments were submitted in briefs, instead of orally.

ANSWERS FILED BY MEN INDICTED IN ALLEGED DYNAMITING CONSPIRACY

Indianapolis, March 12.—Answers to indictments against 46 defendants in the government prosecution of the alleged dynamiting conspiracy were filed before Judge A. B. Anderson by the counsel for the indicted men when they were arraigned today. Nine of the fifty-four indicted were not present. Eliza Soling of Chicago, one of the attorneys for the defense began arguments for a motion to quash indictments on a charge of transporting explosives from state to state. One hundred explosions destroyed or damaged property of employees of non-union labor in cities from Massachusetts to California between 1905 and 1911. The most disastrous wrecked the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910, and killed 21 men.

Most of the defendants are present or former national or local officers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. All are alleged to have conspired illegally to convey explosives on passenger trains from state to state. Most prominent among the indicted men in court today were Frank M. Ryan of Chicago, president of the Ironworkers' Association; John T. Butler, first vice president, and Herbert S. Hooklin of Detroit, second vice president and acting secretary and treasurer.

In the confessions of McManigal Hooklin appears as the traveling superintendent of the "dynamite squad" and custodian of the depositories of explosives in Western Pennsylvania, at Tiffin, O., and in this city.

BUSINESSResolution Introduced in House Asking for Investigation

WELCOMED BY MAGNATES

Who Claim There is No Trust and That Competition is Not Stifled.

Washington, March 12.—A congressional investigation of the Baseball Trust, "the most audacious and autocratic trust in the country," was proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Gallagher, Democrat, of Chicago, yesterday afternoon.

The measure would create a special committee of seven representatives to inquire of the department of justice "what steps have been taken against the Baseball Trust, as against other illegal combinations, to subpoena witnesses and employ assistants."

It accuses the so-called Baseball Trust of presuming "to control the baseball game, its officials, announcing daily through the press the statistics of a governing commission, how competition is stifled, territory and games apportioned, prices fixed that millions must pay to witness the sport, how men are enslaved and forced to accept salaries and terms or be forever barred from playing." Mr. Gallagher said the department of justice knows that there is such a trust under the law and that he would confer with the department in a day or two.

DENIES CHARGE
BASEBALL TRUST

Chicago, March 12.—When informed of the Gallagher resolution President B. B. Johnson of the American League said:

"We would be glad to have an investigation. There is no Baseball Trust, and competition is not stifled. Anyone who desires is welcome to get in the game."

"So far as men being enslaved is concerned, a large number of players are drawing salaries in excess of what is paid to congressmen. That does not look much like enslavement."

President T. M. Chivington of the American Association said:

"Any resolution of that sort presented to congress must be based on a lack of information of the extent, purpose and operation of what is known as organized baseball. As a matter of fact, there is no violation of federal, state or municipal law in the operation of organized baseball."

John T. Powers, president of the Columbian Baseball League, which has planned to put ball teams in a number of cities where the major leagues now play, declared he had taken no part in causing the presentation of the Gallagher resolution.

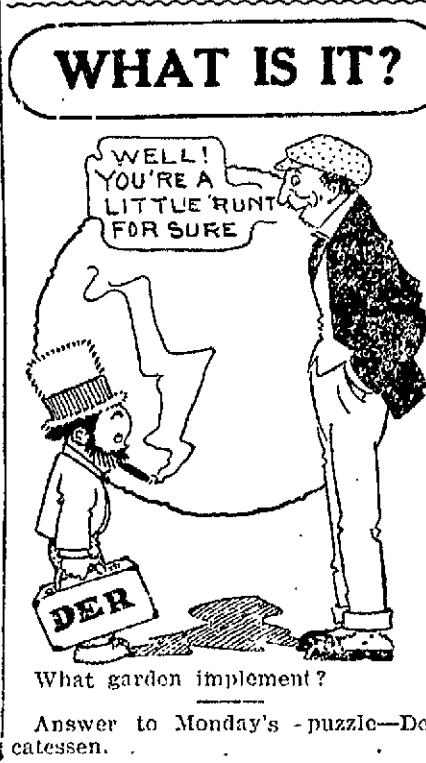

"We have not clashed with the officials of organized baseball," said Mr. Powers. "We expect to enter the field in a number of cities and I do not expect any strong attempt to bar us out. I had nothing to do with the resolution."

LYNCH INVITES
INVESTIGATION

New York, March 12.—"So far as the National League of baseball clubs is concerned, we invite an investigation," said Thomas J. Lynch, president of the league, when told that Representative Gallagher had introduced a resolution for the investigation of the Baseball Trust. He added: "There is absolutely nothing savoring of a trust in our league. We do not in any manner stifle or attempt to stifle competition. I endorse everything that Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, says, and especially his words concerning the 'enslaved' players. In fact, I will add to it slightly by saying that not alone do some of the players receive more money for their work than congressmen, but more than the average business man earns."

"We welcome any man of ability who desires to get into the game, especially college boys. Let the investigation of the National League proceed. We have nothing to fear."

CENTERBURG INCENDIARIES SENTENCED

Mt. Vernon, March 12.—Twelve years in the penitentiary was the sentence of the court this morning upon Charles Foster of Centerburg, convicted of burglary and larceny.

His brother, Clarence Foster, was sentenced earlier in the day, the court sending him to the penitentiary for four years. Glenn Selby, who confessed to participation in the burglary, was sentenced last week to the Mansfield reformatory.

Clarence was brought into court for sentence at 9:30 o'clock. Judge Wickham stated from the bench that he believed that Clarence knew more of the burning of the Hulse block at Centerburg and the robbery of the McGuire clothing store than he had told.

Clarence declared his innocence of any participation in the affair and insisted that the clothing found in his room was taken there, he supposed, by his brother Charles. At 11:30 Charles Foster faced the court for sentence. Judge Wickham declared that he believed that Charles was the master mind in planning the burglary and the burning of the ransacked store. Two more cases remain to be tried.

The burglary and fire occurred on Dec. 15. The blaze was discovered after it had gained such headway that it was impossible to check the flames. Incendiaries was not suspected until the Centerburg marshal, in making a search for illicit liquors, found a quantity of clothing in the Foster home.

Clarence Foster, Glenn Selby, the father of the Foster boys and several others. The investigation that followed wove a net of circumstantial evidence around the youths which they could not escape. The sentences will be executed this week.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF NORTH END CIVIC IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY HELD MONDAY EVENING

A splendid meeting of the North End Civic Improvement Society was held Monday evening in the auditorium of the Christian Union church, corner Maple and Norton avenues. The spirit of the meeting throughout demonstrated that the North Enders are alive to the good that can be accomplished by their organization, and they propose to accomplish things—things that will result in much good and prove beneficial to the entire community.

The meeting Monday evening was attended by about one hundred; it had been called by the ladies, acting in conjunction with the Newark Board of Trade for the annual "clean-up" day.

Attorney J. W. Horner called the meeting to order and stated the object of the ladies in issuing the call. A permanent organization was at once effected by selecting Mr. Horner as president of the association and Mrs. Dorothy H. Baugher as secretary.

Addresses by different members were next in order and the first speaker of the evening was Mrs. William Kellenberger, who made a number of splendid suggestions and told of the general good that could be accomplished by a concentrated effort of those interested in the city's welfare. Mrs. E. T. Johnson followed with a talk on "the extermination of the fly." Her address was listened to with profound attention, and no doubt many of her suggestions will be acted upon by those interested in this greatest of all nuisances. A committee called the "fly committee" was appointed and later they will map out a plan of campaign declaring war upon the great American pest of housewives and all others, the dipterous insect of the Muscidae family, the little winged insect that is possibly responsible for the spreading of more diseases than any other source that could be named. All honor and praise to the good women of Newark who have started an agitation that is bound to result in a cleaner and healthier city.

Short talks were also made by Attorney J. H. Fitzgibbon, H. S. Fleck, J. S. Herzog and E. T. Johnson. Mr. Emmett Baugher, on behalf of the Board of Trade committee, gave a splendid talk along the line of the many things that would be accomplished by a general clean-up day. He praised the North Enders for the enterprise shown in the organization of the improvement association, and knew that they would be found in the front rank of all matters pertaining to civic betterment.

A committee of six was selected by the members to act in conjunction with President Horner and Secretary Baugher to take up the work planned for the association, as follows: E. G. Vanatta, Mrs. C. C. Wynn, Mrs. E. T. Johnson and Mrs. Lamb. This general committee was authorized to name all sub-committees, which will have charge of the different lines of work which will be mapped out later.

The meeting adjourned, to meet again at the call of the proper officials.

THOSE NEWARK BOYS WHO ARE CAUSING BUSINESS TO RUSH IN PATASKALA

It is evident that Columbus business circles are exercised over the phenomenal success of these two young Newark men, Messrs. Charles Courtier and Alfred Webb, who are conducting a large general store in Pataskala. They have almost created a panic among the grocers of Columbus by their methods of doing business.

Some time ago these two enterprising and energetic men adopted the plan of "many sales and small profits," thus giving the purchaser the advantage of reduced prices on all articles and at the same time benefiting themselves by their increased sales. Located as they are right in the heart of one of the best agricultural districts in Ohio they have had no difficulty in having the best and freshest of all kinds of vegetables, eggs, poultry and all kinds of meats on sale at all times. By an arrangement with the farmers in the vicinity of Pataskala they secured the larger part of their produce, and so beneficial is this arrangement that they can undersell any of the dealers in Columbus.

The result is that the people of Columbus and western Licking county are profiting by their methods, and Saturday afternoons and evenings in Pataskala have the appearance of a fête day, so large are the crowds. Last Saturday evening it required two extra coaches to bring the people from Columbus to Pataskala to do their marketing for their Sunday dinners and for the early part of the week. It is said that over 100 people alone from Columbus did their trading Saturday in Pataskala, all the merchants profiting thereby, while Courtier & Webb had a business rush.

About five years ago Courtier & Webb, son of Mr. H. P. Courtier, a well known former resident of Newark, came to get some fruit Monday evening. He struck a match to find his way and immediately there was a flash and a roar and the lad was knocked down. The flames burned the lad's hair away and burned his face badly. One eye was badly burned by the flames and he was taken to Columbus on the evening train to be examined by a specialist. He may lose the sight of the eye.

The force of the explosion lifted the parlor door several inches and blew out a big front window. No one besides the boy was injured.

CASE AGAINST OFFICIALS OF SUGAR TRUST

New York, March 12.—Before Judge Hand in the circuit branch of the United States district court the government outlined the case against Washington D. Thomas, chairman of the American Sugar Refining Co., John E. Parsons, the 83 year old lawyer, formerly the company's chief counsel and three associates, all of whom are placed on trial charged with violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law. The maximum penalty is one year imprisonment and a fine of $5,000 on each count in the indictments of which there are 14. Nearly 300 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the district attorney and almost as many have been summoned by the defense. The trial may last many weeks.

One shampoo with ZEMO SOAP and an application of ZEMO stops the itching instantly, cleanses the scalp and rids it of all dandruff and seurf.

We know that ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP have no rivals for the prompt relief and permanent cure of all skin and scalp affections.

Frequently the trial package will entirely eradicate a minor case of itching scalp or dandruff and is always sufficient to demonstrate the curative powers of ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP for every form of skin or scalp eruptions. A twenty-five cent package will convince you. Evans' Drug Store.

The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quiet life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation.

Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable remedy. First of all the advice may be given that elderly people should not use cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives.

What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and yet acts without scruples.

The remedy that fills all these requirements, and has in addition tonic properties that strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of elderly people use, to the exclusion of all other remedies. Trustworthy people like Mrs. Ed. Gilbert, Mansfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Margaret M. Brown, Springfield, Ohio, say they take it at regular intervals and in that way not only maintain general good health, but that they have not in years felt as good as they do now. You will do well to always have a bottle of it in the house. It is good for all the family.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Good Poultry.

A young chicken is known by an abundance of pinfeathers, soft feet smooth skin on legs below the first joint and a soft cartilage at the point of the breast-bone. The feet of old fowls are hard and covered with dry coarse scales, and the cartilage at the end of the breast-bone has become ossified. Good fowls should be plump, and the cartilage at the end of the breast-bone should be soft and pliable. Turkeys should have smooth, dark legs and the cartilage at the breast bone should be soft. Cook turkeys are usually better than the hen turkeys. Good geese abound in pinfeathers and should be plump, with soft feet and pliable bills.—Delinicator.

BLOOD POISON

THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

By VAUGHAN KESTER
Illustrations By D. MELVILLE

CHAPTER XXII.

The Judge Meets the Situation. The judge and Mr. Mahaffy's celebration of the former's rehabilitated credit had occupied the shank of the evening, the small hours of the night, and that part of the succeeding day which the southwest described as soon in the morning; and as the stone jug, in which were garnered the spoils of the highly confidential but entirely misleading conversation which the judge had held with Mr. Pegloe after his return from Belle Plain, lost in weight; it might have been observed that he and Mr. Mahaffy seemed to gain in that nice sense of equity which should form the basis of all human relations. The judge watched Mr. Mahaffy, and Mr. Mahaffy watched the judge, each trustfully placing the regulation of his private conduct in the hands of his friend, as the one most likely to be affected by the rectitude of his acts.

Probably so extensive a consumption of Mr. Pegloe's corn whiskey had never been accomplished with greater high-mindedness. They honorably split the last glass, the judge scoring to set up any technical claim to it as his exclusive property; then he stared at Mahaffy, while Mahaffy, dark-visaged and forbidding, stared back at him.

The judge sighed deeply. He took up the jug and inverted it. A stray drop or so fell languidly into his glass.

"Try squeezing it, Price," said Mahaffy.

The judge shook the jug, it gave forth an empty sound, and he sighed again; he attempted to peer into it, closing one watery eye as he tilted it toward the light.

"I wonder no Yankee has ever

"Try Squeezing It, Price," Said Mahaffy.

thought to invent a jug with a glass bottom," he observed.

"What for?" asked Mahaffy.

"You astonish me, Solomon," exclaimed the judge. "Coming as you do from that section which invented the wooden nutmeg, and an eight-day clock that has been known to run as much as four or five hours at a stretch. I am aware the Yankees are an ingenious people; I wonder none of 'em ever thought of a jug with a glass bottom, so that when a body holds it up to the light he can see at a glance whether it is empty or not. Do you reckon Pegloe has sufficient confidence to fill the jug again for us?"

But Mahaffy's expression indicated no great confidence in Mr. Pegloe's confidence.

"Credit," began the judge, "is proverbially shy; still it may sometimes be increased, like the muscles of the body and the mental faculties, by judicious use. I've always regarded Pegloe's as a cheap mind. I hope I have done him an injustice." He put on his hat, and tucking the jug under his arm went from the house.

Ten or fifteen minutes elapsed. Mahaffy considered this a good sign; it didn't take long to say no, he reflected. Another ten or fifteen elapsed. Mahaffy lost heart. Then there came a hasty step beyond the door, it was thrown violently open, and the judge precipitated himself into the room. A glance showed Mahaffy that he was laboring under intense excitement.

"Solomon, I bring shocking news. God knows what the next few hours may reveal!" cried the judge, mopping his brow. "Miss Malroy has disappeared from Belle Plain, and Hannibal has gone with her!"

"Where have they gone?" asked Mahaffy, and his long jaw dropped.

"Would to God I had an answer ready for that question, Solomon!" answered the judge, with a melancholy shake of the head. He gazed down on his friend with an air of large tolerance. "I am going to Belle Plain, but you are too drunk. Sleep it off, Solomon, and join me when your brain is clear and your legs steady."

Mahaffy jerked out an oath, and lifting himself off his chair, stood erect. He snatched up his hat.

"Stuff your pistols into your pockets, and come on, Price!" he said, and stalked toward the door.

He flitted up the street, and the judge puffed and panted in his wake. They gained the edge of the village without speech.

"There is mystery and rascality here!" said the judge.

"What do you know, Price, and where did you hear this?" Mahaffy shot the question back over his shoulder.

"At Pegloe's; the Belle Plain overseer had just fetched the news into town."

Again they were silent, all their energies being absorbed by the physical exertion they were making. The road danced before their burning eyes, it seemed to be uncoiling itself serpent-wise with hideous undulations. Mr. Mahaffy was conscious that the judge, of whom he caught a blurred vision now at his right side, now at his left, was laboring painfully in the heat and dust, the breath whistling from between his parched lips.

"You're just ripe for apoplexy, Price!" he snarled, moderating his pace.

"Go on," said the judge, with stolid resolution.

Two miles out of the village they came to a roadside spring; here they paused for an instant. Mahaffy scooped up handfuls of the clear water and sucked it greedily. The judge dropped on his stomach and buried his face in the tiny pool, gulping up great thirsty swallows. After a long breathless instant he stood erect, with drops of moisture clinging to his nose and eyebrows. Mahaffy was a dozen paces down the road, hurrying forward again with relentless vigor. The judge shuffled after him. The tracks they left in the dust crossed and re-crossed the road, but presently the slanting lines of their advance straightened, the judge gained and held a fixed place at Mahaffy's right, a step or so in the rear. His opulent face began to deal with the situation.

"If anything happens to the child, the man responsible for it would better never been born—I'll pursue him with undiminished energy from this moment forth!" he panted.

"What could happen to him, Price?" asked Mahaffy.

"God knows, poor little lad!"

"Will you shut up!" cried Mahaffy savagely.

"Solomon!"

"Why do you go building on that idea? Why should any one harm him—what earthly purpose?"

"I tell you, Solomon, we are the pivotal point in a vast circle of crime. This is a blow at me—this is revenge, sir, neither more nor less! They have struck at me through the boy, it is as plain as day."

"What did the overseer say?"

"Just that they found Miss Malroy gone from Belle Plain this morning, and the boy with her."

"This is like you, Price! How do you know they haven't spent the night at some neighbor's?"

"The nearest neighbor is five or six miles distant. Miss Malroy and Hannibal were seen along about dusk in a grove at Belle Plain; do you mean to tell me you consider it likely that they set out on foot at that hour, and without a word to any one, to make a visit?" inquired the judge; but Mahaffy did not contend for this point.

"What are you going to do first, Price?"

"Have a look over the grounds, and talk with the slaves."

"Where's the brother—wasn't he at Belle Plain last night?"

"It seems he went to Memphis yesterday."

They plodded forward in silence; now and again they were passed by some man on horseback whose destination was the same as their own, and then at last they caught sight of Belle Plain in its grove of trees.

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Judge Takes Charge. All work on the plantation had stopped, and the hundreds of slaves—men, women and children—were gathered about the house. Among these moved the members of the dominant race. The judge would have attached himself to the first group, but he heard a whispered question, and the answer:

"Miss Malroy's lawyer."

Clearly it was not for him to mix with these outsiders, these curiosity seekers. He crossed the lawn to the house, and mounted the steps. In the doorway was big Steve, while groups of men stood about in the hall, the hum of busy purposeless talk pervading the place. The judge frowned. This was all wrong.

"Has Mr. Ware returned from Memphis?" he asked of Steve.

"No, sah; not yet."

"Then show me into the library," said the judge with bland authority, surrendering his hat to the butler. "Come along, Mahaffy!" he added. They entered the library, and the judge motioned Steve to "close the door. Now, boy, you'll kindly ask those people to withdraw—you may say it is Judge Price's orders. Allow no one to enter the house unless they have business with me, or as I send for them—you understand? After you have cleared the house, you may bring me a decanter of corn whiskey—stop a bit—you may ask the sheriff to step here."

"Yes, sah," And Steve withdrew.

The judge drew an easy-chair up to the flat-topped desk that stood in the center of the room, and seated himself.

"Are you going to make this the excuse for another drunk, Price? If so, I feel the greatest contempt for you," said Mahaffy sternly.

The judge winced at this.

"You have made a regrettable choice of words, Solomon," he urged gently.

"Where's your feeling for the boy?"

"Here!" said the judge, with an eloquent gesture, resting his hand on his heart.

"If you let whiskey alone, I'll believe you; otherwise what I have said must stand."

The door opened, and the sheriff slouched into the room. He was chewing a long wheat straw, and his whole appearance was one of troubled weakness.

"Morning," he said briefly.

"Sit down, sheriff," and the judge indicated a meek seat for the official in a distant corner. "Have you learned anything?" he asked.

The sheriff shook his head.

"What you turning all these neighbors out of doors for?" he questioned.

"We don't want people tracking in and out the house, sheriff. Important evidence may be destroyed. I propose examining the slaves first—does that meet with your approval?"

"Oh, I've talked with them; they don't know nothing," said the sheriff.

"No one don't know nothing."

"Please God, we may yet put our fingers on some villain who does," said the judge.

Outside it was noised about that Judge Price had taken matters in hand—he was the old fellow who had been warned to keep his mouth shut, and who had never stopped talking since. A crowd collected beyond the library windows and feasted its eyes on the back of this hero's bald head.

One by one the house servants were ushered into the judge's presence. First he interrogated little Steve, who had gone to Miss Betty's door that morning to rouse her, as was his custom. Next he examined Betty's maid; then the cook, and various house servants, who had nothing special to tell, but told it at considerable length; and lastly, big Steve.

"Stop a bit," the judge suddenly interrupted the butler in the midst of his narrative. "Does the overseer always come up to the house the first thing in the morning?"

"Why, not exactly, sah, but he come up this mornin', sah. He was talking to me at the back of the house, when the women run out with the word that Missy was done gone away."

"He joined in the search?"

"Yes, sah."

"When was Miss Malroy seen last?" asked the judge.

"She and the young gemman you fatched heah were seen in the garden along about sundown. I seen them myself."

"They had had supper?"

"Yes, sah."

"Who sleeps here?"

"Just little Steve and three of the women; they sleeps at the back of the house, sah."

"No sounds were heard during the night?"

"No, sah."

"I'll see the overseer—what's his name?"—Hicks? Suppose you go for him!" said the judge, addressing the sheriff.

The sheriff was gone from the room only a few moments, and returned with the information that Hicks was down at the bayou, which was to be dragged.

"Why?" inquired the judge.

"Hicks says Miss Malroy's been acting mighty queer ever since Charley Norton was shot—distracted like! He says he noticed it, and that Tom Ware noticed it."

"How does he explain the boy's disappearance?"

"He reckons she throwed herself in, and the boy tried to drag her out, like he naturally would, and got drawn in."

"Humph! I'll trouble Mr. Hicks to step here," said the judge quietly.

"There's Mr. Carrington and a couple of strangers outside who've been asking about Miss Malroy and the boy; seems like the strangers knowed her and him back yonder in North Carolina," said the sheriff as he turned away.

"I'll see them." The sheriff went from the room and the judge dismissed the servants.

"Well, what do you think, Price?" asked Mahaffy anxiously when they were alone.

"Rubbish! Take my word for it, Solomon, this blow is leveled at me. I have been too forward in my attempts to suppress the carnival of crime that is raging through west Tennessee. You'll observe that Miss Malroy disappeared at a moment when the public is disposed to think she has retained me as her legal adviser; probably she will be set at liberty when she agrees to drop the matter of Norton's murder. As for the boy, they'll use him to compel my silence and inaction." The judge took a long breath. "Yet there remains one point where the boy is concerned that completely baffles me. If we knew just a little more of his antecedents it might cause me to make a startling and radical move."

Mahaffy was clearly not impressed by the vague generalities in which the judge was dealing.

"There you go, Price, as usual, trying to convince yourself that you are the center of everything!" he said, in a tone of much exasperation. "Let's get down to business! What does this man Hicks mean by hinting at suicide? You saw Miss Malroy yesterday?"

Hicks Says Miss Malroy's Been Acting Queer Since Charley Norton Was Shot."

"You have put your finger on a point of some significance," said the judge. "She bore evidence of the shock and loss she had sustained; aside from that she was quite as she has always been."

"Well, what do you want to see Hicks for? What do you expect to learn from him?"

"I don't like his insistence on the idea that Miss Malroy is mentally unbalanced. It's a question of some delicacy—the law, sir, fully recognizes that. It seems to me he is over-anxious to account for her disappearance in a manner that can compromise no one."

ART AND PASSION.

All the best thoughts in the world, into however frosty a form they may since have become chilled; were molded from metal that was once molten. History surmises that the world began hot. So every thought that has had a history began as a passion. We can manufacture in cold weather, but creating is done under a high temperature. What is true of thought is just as true of art. Art's enthusiasm taken shape. The great cathedrals are old pulse beats. The master paintings, and they are all religious, are holy medieval passion thrown upon canvas. Art is imitative now rather than creative because the thermometer is down. We can make waxwork with the thermometer at zero, but we cannot grow flowers there.—Charles H. Parkhurst.

Charcoal a Necessity.

If housewives knew the value of charcoal in the home they would never be without a supply. It should not only be kept in cupboards and wardrobes to collect the dampness, but also in the refrigerator, where it will keep a sanitary condition and absorb any food odors. Here it should be renewed weekly in order that its efficiency be preserved. The discarded charcoal need not be thrown away after used for this purpose, as it is still good for fuel use. Powdered charcoal mixed with salt is excellent for the cleaning of the teeth or veridigris from copper utensils.

PAPER BAG COOKING.

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

TO GO WITH THE TURKEY.

By Martha McCulloch Williams. I will now explain how the remaining dishes of the anniversary day menu (cranberry sauce, excepted) may be prepared by the paper bag method. The recipes given have all been found by actual experiment to be highly satisfactory in every respect.

Sweet Potatoes in Syrup.—Choose smooth, even potatoes of medium size, boil twenty minutes, drop in cold water, peel, dip in melted butter, roll in sugar, put into a buttered bag, with sugar, butter and lemon juice enough to make a fairly rich syrup. Seal bag, and cook for twelve minutes in a fairly hot oven. Pour the syrup from the bag around them into a hot dish.

Spanish Onions.—Parboil for fifteen minutes Spanish or Bermuda onions, chill them in cold water, then cut a V out of the hearts. Fill the space with butter; after dusting it well with salt and pepper, put the onions in a bag with a lump of butter and a very little water, seal and cook twenty minutes in a hot oven, or thirty minutes in a very moderate one.

Baked Pears.—Ripe, well-flavored pears are best for baking, but the ordinary cooking pear will answer if baked with sugar, lemon juice and spices. Peel the pears, cut off the stems and take out the core, but only a little way beyond the blossom end. Stick a clove, a shred of mace or bit of cinnamon in the core-space, fill in around it with sugar and roll the fruit in dry sugar before putting it in a buttered bag. Put in half a gill of water also to the half dozen, seal bag, and cook at slow heat fifty minutes to an hour.

Creamed Salisbury.—Boil tender, drop into cold water, peel and cut in two-inch length strips, steep in a dressing of butter and cream, lightly seasoned with pepper and salt. Put in well-greased bag, seal and leave in the oven a few minutes only.

Smothered Chicken.—Have a good-sized broiler cut into joints, taking care not to leave sharp bones to the joints. Salt and pepper them lightly, dredge with flour and lay in a well-greased bag upon thin slices of bacon. Cover with more bacon slices, taking care to keep the chicken spread rather flat. Add a teaspoonful of water, or a couple of peeled and sliced tomatoes. Shreds of green pepper add somewhat of flavor to the tomatoes. Seal in bag and cook for forty minutes, slacking heat almost half after the first five minutes. Make a peep-hole in the upper side of the bag near the middle, and if the bacon and chicken are not as brown as you like, cook five to ten minutes longer. Serve on a hot dish with gravy from the bag.

Good pies demand good crust—shorter than any temper, easier broken than promises. Make it by M. Soyer's recipe, then surely it will be up to grade. Here is the recipe: Take one pound of flour, three-quarters of a pound of butter. Mix the flour with water and salt lightly until the consistency of butter. Leave this dough for half an hour, then flatten with your hand and lay your butter on the top of the paste. Then fold four-corner way, and give it two rolls, as usual. Leave your paste in a cool place for forty-five minutes, and then roll twice more. Leave it for forty-five minutes and then roll twice again.

Bake all your pies in bags; it may seem extravagant, but the gas-saving more than pays for the bags. Use thin pie tins. Roll out and fill as usual. Set pans inside bags and set the bags on trivets. Cook two pies at once, but shift them midway the cooking, from upper to lower shelf, and vice versa. Thus they will brown top and bottom. Grease the bags but lightly underneath; even though they crisp there it does no harm. The essential thing is to keep the upper surface covered and maintain steady heat. Have the oven hot at first, but slack heat after a little—as soon as the bag corners show rather brown. Average pies, with average heat, require twenty-five to thirty minutes. Make peep-holes on top in the bags when you think they are done; if not brown enough, raise the heat a wee bit and cook five minutes longer.

To make the cider-cup, cut thinly the yellow peel from six oranges and six lemons, squeeze out the juice and put in with the peel and three cups of sugar. Make a gallon of sweet cider very hot, but do not let it boil, pour it upon the peels and juice, and let stand in a cold place for twenty-four hours, stirring it several times. The peel can be strained out, but it looks rather pretty in glasses.

For tea lemonade, take the juice of a dozen well-washed lemons and three sweet oranges, cut the squeezed fruit in rings, and add it to the juice. Put in five cups of sugar and strain over the whole a gallon and a quarter of weak tea, boiling hot, then add a cupful of rum. This also is better for standing—it keeps several days in a cool place. The rum can be omitted if there are scruples regarding it. In that case the strained juice of a pineapple that has been shredded and allowed to stand twenty-four hours in sugar can take its place. Dilute this one-fourth with mineral water in the glasses.

COLD IN CHEST COUGHS OR CROUP

Big Box of Begy's Mustarine for 25 Cents on Money Back Plan at Evans' Drug Store.

Get a box today; it's twice as good as the good old-fashioned mustard poultice, all the stickiness and dirt is removed. It cannot blister. Just rub it on if you want to get rid of pleurisy, bronchitis, stiff neck, sore throat, lumbago, neuralgia, headache, earache, toothache.

It stops pain so quickly that users are astonished. For lameness, rheumatism, swollen joints, sore muscles or cramps in legs it is better than any plaster or liniment. Use it on those cold feet; start the stagnant blood to circulating and your feet will be warm as toast all winter long.

For bunions, callouses, frost-bitten and chilblains, no so-called foot remedy can equal it. Be sure it's Begy's—Evans' Drug Store recommends it. Every home needs it. Begy's Mustarine.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage, a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark glossy hair at seventy-five, while their mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength, and beauty to your hair.

WHEN you catch cold—Go home. Go to bed. As soon as you are in bed take some Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and the juice of a lemon in a glass of hot water, as hot as you can drink it. There is no better remedy for a cold than Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, in moderation, in hot water, at bed time. At druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 large bottle. Keeping Baby's Milk Warm.
The use of vacuum bottles for keeping warm the milk to be fed at night to babies is a great convenience to nurses and mothers, but it should be practiced with caution. According to a Chicago physician, putting babies' milk into such bottles is never justified unless the temperature of the milk is first taken.
If it is 135 to 140 degrees
it is safe to use the bottles; if it is less than 135 the milk will be unfit for use in a few hours.

The Ohio State Journal's cartoon impression that Roosevelt is an extensive borrower of ideas from Mr.

Bryan. But it should be remembered that there is a wide difference in the manner in which the two statesmen have espoused and presented to the public the ideas and reforms with which they are prominently identified.
The honesty and sincerity of Mr.
Bryan has never been questioned, while the lack of these traits in the conduct of Mr. Roosevelt is deplorably manifest.

Regarding Good Roads.

The proposed method of building roads by a bond issue, which Governor Harmon recommended, will not destroy the low tax rate idea to which the people of the state seem to be committed and preserve to the counties, townships and road districts their local funds. A campaign for indorsement by the people of the proposal at the polls has been started. It is a true progressive movement. Spreading the interest and sinking fund charges over a term of years will fix a charge not to exceed three-tenths of 1 mill.
Undoubtedly the investment of $50-000,000 during the next ten years will be the greatest asset ever added to the state by internal improvement. It will increase farm values, give employment to men, stimulate many kinds of industry and begin an era of prosperity throughout the state. The most important part of the proposal is the stipulation that the state shall pay all the cost of these roads, thus leaving to the counties and townships the control and use of county and township road funds for construction and upkeep of local roads.

Civilization means interdependence.
This is the great truth which is emphasized by the British coal strike.

LaFollette may be better informed than some other people when he says he is still in the field.

It often happens that when men get hungry they get wise; the stomach leads the head in the direction of greater sanity. As the coal strike in Great Britain operates to make food scarcer and dearer and comfortable living more impossible for everybody, the passions of lookers-on as well as of the parties to the strife will gradually be dissipated and turned to thought of compromise and accommodation and bread and meat. Some philosophers among the ancients held to the notion that the seat of reason was in the intestinal tract. They may not have been so far wrong as we moderns think.

THE PRICE OF THE LAWRENCE LESSON

(New York World.)
If the mill-owners of Lawrence had in the first place done what they are doing now, they would have spared the country as disgraceful a strike situation as ever afflicted it, and they would have saved themselves from troubles which will not end with the strike.

They began by reducing wages conformably with a reduction in weekly hours from fifty-six to fifty-four, and by refusing to confer about the matter with the organized workers. They end by conceding higher wages for fifty-four than were paid for fifty-six hours.
And if they saved themselves from any conference with the leaders of their labor, they forced themselves into a very extended conference with the American public, whose uncomfortable results for them are only beginning to be felt.

It should not require riot and bloodshed and the clubbing of women and invasions of the constitutional rights of persons to bring out the mockery of tariff protection to labor. But such a price has been paid and the lesson is being learned. It is now in order for Congress to take hold of Schedule K.

ASPIRANTS TAKE IT SERIOUSLY

How Presidential Bee Affects Different Men.

CHAMP CLARK IS THOUGHTFUL

Underwood Grows Humorous—La Follette Has Heavier Burdens and Works Harder—Little Change in Cummins.
Once a Candidate Always a Candidate—Never Get Over It.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, March 12.—[Special.]—
The presidential bee affects different men according to their temperaments.
It has taken a great deal of the lively spirit out of Champ Clark, made him a thoughtful, serious person, reserved in manner and speech.

It has made Oscar W. Underwood a smiling glad hander. In place of serious and frank observations about men and things which we formerly heard from the Alabama man in private conversation we now get a few playful remarks, meant to be humorous, but which do not go well with the Underwood makeup and do not fit
the Underwood face.

Under the pressure of being a candidate Robert M. La Follette has assumed all the ills of the people, piling burden after burden upon his shoulders, working harder than ever before to do the work of three ordinary men.
Always a serious man, this seriousness has become intensified under the strain of being a candidate for president.

Albert B. Cummins, knowing how Iowa candidates for the presidency have fared in the past, has not allowed his boom to make much difference in his demeanor nor change his form of speech. A little more alert in listening to what is said of other candidates, particularly the man who is not a candidate, but will take the nomination, the Iowa senator moves along in about the same orbit as before.

Never Get Over It.
For many years Champ Clark used to talk freely about men of the past who had heard the buzzing of the presidential bee. It was his assertion that a man once in sight of the presidential goal or with a fighting chance for the nomination never got over it. Once a candidate, always a candidate. His reminders about men who wanted to be elected president are very interesting.

Land by the Gallon.
In one of the many recurring rows over the Everglades, in Florida, Congressman Akin told a story about an Iowa man who had bought lands in the Everglades and went down to see them and then remarked with some earnestness, "I have bought land by the acre, I have bought land by the section, I have bought land by the foot, but I have never before bought
land by the gallon."

Not Influenced by Cannon.
If any one thinks that Minority Leader Mann is in the least influenced by Uncle Joe Cannon he ought to try it on. There was a bill before the house in which a large number of men were interested. It was certain that Mann would oppose it because it related to something for the benefit of the army or navy.

So Uncle Joe was drafted and sent to Mann with a request that he keep his hands off. When the bill was reached Mann was there and took charge of the opposition and did his utmost to defeat it. After quite a fight the bill was passed with only five votes against it.

Fish of Different Kinds.
The house was considering a bill providing for some kind of an international commission which was to do wonders in the way of restoring the depleted fisheries. Chairman Sulzer of the foreign affairs committee had charge of the bill, and there was a disposition to have a little fun at his expense.

"It seems to me that the important thing," remarked Slayden of Texas,
"is whether this commission is going to propose a plan by which we can persuade those fish to return to the shores of America."

"There is no doubt about that," said Flood of Virginia, the man whom Sulzer crowded out of the chairmanship.
"We are going to devise a plan by which that can be done."

"If they do not come back we must provide schools for their instruction and persuade them to return," said Slayden.

"Is it not a fact," asked Rucker of Colorado, "that the principality of Monte Carlo is one of the nations participating in this commission?"
"No," responded Sulzer, with emphatic seriousness.
"The gentleman knows," continued
Rucker, "that the prince of Monte Carlo has been for years engaged in the very laudable project and endeavor of discovering the secrets of the deep."
"Catching suckers," explained Mann of Illinois.
"This is a serious matter," was the earnest comment of Sulzer when the laughter subsided.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

That Rushed Feeling.

No matter what our station in life may be, most of us are suffering from that rushed feeling.

From the time we prod ourselves out of bed in the morning until we lay our weary bodies down at night, we are going at a tension. We feel that we are not getting all the things done that we want to do, that those neglected things are assembling into some dark host that eternally prods and pushes and makes us hurry ever and ever faster. Our brain is in a whirl, our nerves are taut, and usually, the climax is a darkened room, a white-capped nurse, and the feeling that nothing matters any more, and that it isn't hard to die anyway.

And this feeling pervades all ranks. The business woman is pushed all day, and when she goes home at night there is such an appalling list of things to do and of things that have been left undone, that she is desperate. The housekeeper tries frantically to clean and cook and sew and make calls and go to church and have a party now and then, and all the time she is distraught at the things that are left undone. The society woman rushes breathlessly from luncheon to tea, and tea to dinner, and dinner to ball. No matter where you go today, you seldom find the woman of calm, of serenity, of leisure.

It is not wholesome, this rushed feeling. It means a breakdown, sooner or later. Nerves that are always at a tension will in time snap, a brain that is always in a whirl will wear out sooner than it should. A right amount of activity and wholesome interests are promoters of health, but an over supply becomes a burden too heavy to carry, and the strength fails.

The woman who has this rushed feeling should see what she can cut out. She should study and see what, in all this scramble, is worth while, and what is not. Is she frantically pawing around in a squirrel cage that simply uses up her strength, but never gets her anywhere, or will she arrive at some desired goal, or accomplish something worth doing?

With many of us, it must be admitted, that all this hurry and strain accomplish little. At the end of a year, we are not much farther ahead in the things that count than we were the year before. We may have left several hundred visiting cards around various houses. We may have shown off several dozen hats and gowns. We may have proven to our satisfaction, that our silver and cut glass are finer and more lavish in quantity than our neighbors'. But really as sane people, are these things worth while? And if we have done these things at the expense of our health, or at a sacrifice of that leisure which would have given us time to read and reflect and grow mentally and spiritually, has it been worth the doing?

So, if our health is suffering, our finances suffering, or our real spiritual self suffering, from this rushed feeling, let us cut out the useless things, the rubbish that is prodding us to this frantic pace, and settle down to a calmer, saner gait. Our health will improve, our spirits lighten, and life will take on a real joy, of whose delight we never get the faintest taste now, as we hurry frantically on our round of uselessness.

A BLUE CHARMEUSE

A charming dress in blue charmeuse. The lower part of the skirt is laid in shallow pressed plaits. The tunic and bodice are of blue and white, edged with white, edged with white, edged with white. The skirt is of black satin. The yoke and sleeve insets are of finely tucked black chiffon.

BOUILLON.

Put one pound chopped round beef in a bowl with one chopped onion, a piece of parsley, turnip, tough ends of celery, one-half dozen whole white peppers, same of whole cloves and allspice, two or three bay leaves, small piece of carrot, three eggs with shells; mix thoroughly and add two quarts cold clear stock. TO THE PUBLIC

You Cannot Afford To Miss Reading This.

We believe it is our duty to inform the public that the majority of fatal cases of pneumonia are caused by the patient taking for a cold some so-called cough cure which depends upon poisonous drugs for its effect.

These drugs deaden the nerves and stop secretions along the breathing tract—which causes pneumonia.

Father John's medicine cures colds and throat and lung troubles without poisonous drugs. It is not a patent medicine, nor cough syrup, but a body builder—an eminent specialist prescribed it for the Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., fifty years ago.

McCONOUGHIEY-ALSPACH.

A pretty home wedding occurred at the home of the bride in North Eleventh street Saturday evening, March ninth at six o'clock, when Miss Aria Alspach was united in marriage to Porter D. McConoughiey of Chicago, Illinois.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Alspach, and is a graduate of Newark High School, class '08, and a former teacher in the city schools.

The groom is well known here, being a nephew of Dr. C. L. and C. E. Wyeth of this city. The groom's mother is a sister of the Doctor Wyeths, and is well known in Licking county.

Miss Alspach was beautiful in a gown of white crepe de chine with veil caught with orange blossoms and she carried white roses.

Promptly at six o'clock Mrs. Moninger sang beautifully "I Love You Truly," "Beloved It Is Morn." Then Miss Camille Windle played the wedding march to strains of which the wedding party appeared, led by Misses Carol Wyeth and Ula Hess as ribbon bearers, followed by Miss Irma Alspach, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wearing pink velveteen and carrying pink carnations. She was followed by the contracting parties, who standing before Dr. L. C. Sparks took the solemn pledges which made them man and wife. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony of the M. E. church was used.

After congratulations a dainty collation was served to about fifty relatives and friends. Many beautiful and useful presents were received.

Those present from out of the city were Mrs. J. W. McConoughiey, mother of the groom, of Chicago, Arthur Wyeth and wife, Claude and Cleo Wyeth of Johnstown, O. and Nide N. Alspach of Delaware, O.

The happy couple left on the 8:50 p. m. train for Chicago, where after March 15 they will be at home to all their friends at 4117 North Forty-second avenue.

Roast Ham.

Wash a small ham and soak it 24 hours in cold water, changing the water four times. Trim away rusty parts and wipe dry. Cover the flesh side of the ham with a thick paste of flour and water, place it in a baking pan with the skin next to the pan and bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes for every pound. Every ten minutes baste with sherry wine until a half pint has been used. After this baste with the drippings in the pan. When done, remove the crust carefully and peel off the skin. Dredge the fat of the ham with bread, dust and garnish. Serve plain or with sauce.

About the only thing some persons are willing to share is trouble, and that is the only thing most people refuse to take.

If you are always on guard you may win by a block.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have a thing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors: They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers, in handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The First Telescope
And the Man
Who Made It

"THE moon is shining into the window so brightly tonight," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn, "that I want you children to take a good peep at it."

"Would you suppose that it was covered with hills and mountains and valleys just like our earth?"

"No, indeed," answered the children. "We never would."

"If you had a telescope and looked at the moon through that you would see that the moon has hills and valleys, though it is thought nothing grows there," said daddy. "It is only within a few hundred years that we have had telescopes."

"Before that people had all sorts of queer ideas about the stars. They thought the moon was just a mirror hung up in the sky. Now that we have telescopes so that we can look closely at the moon we know better. We know that the moon has hills and valleys and that the dark places are only the shadows formed where the valleys dip down below tall mountains. The moon mountains are very high."

"The man who first found out these things was Galilei, an Italian, who was a teacher in one of the great schools in the Italian city of Padua. He lived a little over 600 years ago."

"Galilei made himself a telescope which would enlarge thirty times anything at which he looked. He studied the moon with his telescope, and then he told the people what he had learned. Some of them laughed at him, and some thought he was crazy or lying."

"His telescope made a great stir, and he was for awhile very popular. Then he began to teach that the sun did not move around the earth, as people had always believed, but that the earth moved around the sun."

"This was too much for the people, who had always been taught the opposite. Galilei was arrested, and the court told him that he must take back what he had said about the earth moving about the sun. Galilei had a way of making fun of people who were too dull to understand his teachings, and so he had few friends to take his part."

"Though he was such a wise man in some ways, he had not the courage to stand boldly by the truth. To get out of trouble he said aloud: 'I was mistaken; the earth does not move.' Then under his breath he whispered, 'Nevertheless it does move.'"

"After his death people learned that he was right about the earth and sun. Galilei knew he was right, but to get out of trouble he was willing to say that right was wrong. So Galilei was a coward, though he was one of the cleverest men who ever lived."

Glorious News
Comes from Dr. J. T. Curtiss, Dwight, Kan. He writes: "I not only have cured bad cases of eczema in my patients with Electric Blitters but also cured myself by them of the same disease. I feel sure they will benefit any case of eczema." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Blitters is a most effective blood purifier. It's an excellent remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Price 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by F. D. Hall.

Cause of Eczema Now Explained

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Salves have been tried but have been proven worthless for they only clog the pores and fail utterly to remove the real cause of the disease.

These germs can be destroyed only by a wash, and unless this is promptly done, they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

FRANK D. HALL DRUGGIST, NOK.

A 25c bottle is enough to prove what D.D.D. will do.

We have had experience with many remedies for skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D.D.D. Prescription.

We know many people have given up trying to find a cure for Eczema. They have tried most everything and seem to think there is nothing that will help them. Of course, we will not absolutely promise you that D.D.D. will cure you, but we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you, that we will give you the first $1.00 bottle on our personal guarantee that if you do not find it does the work it will not cost you a cent.

Drop in anyway and investigate the merits of this great remedy.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Concrete Telegraph Poles.

Concrete telegraph poles will be tried out on the Pennsylvania railroad through here. The company officials have arranged for a big supply to be furnished by a firm at Bucyrus, and wherever the old poles are to be replaced the new concrete poles will be placed in position. If these prove entirely satisfactory, they will be used exclusively on the road.—Marion Star.

New Steel Mail Cars.

E. G. Chenoweth, head of the mechanical engineer's department of the Erie, at Meadville, Pa., is in Washington, conferring with members of the postoffice department in regard to new steel underframe mail cars which the Erie is contemplating building. The specifications of the postoffice department demand that all steel underframes be used on all government mail cars. The Erie railroad has been preparing plans for a design which it proposes using on the wooden cars now being used. Until 1916 the government will permit its mail being transported in wooden cars, with steel underframes, but after that date the ruling is that all mail cars must be wholly of steel.

Railway Wage Reductions.

The possibility of wage reductions is looming up on the horizon of some railroad employees. The men are manifesting some concern about the matter, but railroad officials say there is no reason for the fear on the part of the men. The men have been told by some parties that the acts of the interstate commerce commission have been adverse to the railroads in nearly all cases, and the railroads would be required to cut wages in order to retain their standing. Further than this they have been told that the refusal by the commission to permit a general advance in rates at the beginning of last year and reductions ordered in several instances caused the railroads great hardships. The leading officials of the roads in reply say that while there may be a few unnecessary positions abandoned, there will be no general reduction of wages.

Safe Steam Locomotion.

The latest thing in railroading is the use of a gasoline electric tool car which is really a gasoline automobile running on the rails like a handcar and carrying an electric generator to operate the tools which have to a great extent superseded manual labor on the Rock Island railroad.

The motive power for the car is supplied by a 33 horsepower gasoline engine and the electric power is furnished by a 6.5 kilowatt Crocker-Wheeler generator. A kilowatt is equal to 1.34 horsepower. This machine, therefore, generates nearly 9 horsepower. The electric tools which it is designed to operate are two electric spike screwing machines, six electric drills, an electric saw for rails, and portable emery wheels. This is the equipment carried on each car.

If necessary this railroad automobile can pull additional cars or tenders to carry spikes, extra cable or additional tools and men. From 1 3/4 to 2 seconds time only is required to drive a spike with the spike screwing machine, as against 8 to 10 minutes per man driving one spike by hand in the old way. It has been found that soft wood ties can be utilized with the same degree of safety as hard wood by using screw spikes, and curve troubles are largely eliminated. The constant replacing of loosened drive spikes in ties is avoided, and there is consequently less rotting of ties caused by spike holes. Extra lengths of cable are carried with plug-in switches every twenty feet, so that the electric tools can be used as far as a quarter of a mile from the car. Thus repairs can be effected promptly and at high speed, and the big steam locomotive can puff triumphantly on its way, thanks to the vigilance and efficiency of the little tool car.

No other business plant has been more in touch with the people all over Licking and parts of adjoining counties than the George E. Howell Provision Company.

Therefore the failure of that company would affect more people, directly and indirectly, than the failure of any other concern in the county.

That mistakes were made in the management in the past, is patent to all; but with the reorganization of the company came a new board of managers, who have not had a fair chance to "make good."

Licking county and contiguous territory cannot afford to let this plant fail. Now is the time to take stock and save those who have invested from a loss on their holdings. What other concern has paid the

SUBSCRIPTION FOR MRS. SMART

Mr. H. H. Hought, the contractor, left a $5 subscription at the Advocate office Friday, suggesting that this paper receive cash subscriptions for Mrs. Smart, widow of Thomas Smart, who met a tragic death in West Newark this week.

Mr. Hought called attention to the fact that Mr. Smart was a good citizen, a working man, honest, sober and industrious, and that a fund created by the subscriptions of citizens could be used to good advantage by Mrs. Smart.

The Advocate is pleased to make this announcement and will be glad to receive any contributions that are made and to hand the same to Mrs. Smart.

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Play.

If the opening night of Miss Boyer's second week in this city is any criterion of what the business is to be for the last week suffice it to say all house records will become matters of oblivion. Every seat was taken and the S. R. O. sign was early displayed. No stock actress has ever attained the popularity here that Miss Boyer has and with her every engagement this popularity increases.

The bill on Monday night was "Beverly of Graustark" a dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's novel. The play is evidently as popular as the book was and it should be for the playwright has retained all the telling points of the book and grouped them in an easy manner. The first act before "things really begin to happen" lacks action, but the remaining three acts hold the audience. Miss Boyer made a charming Beverly, the unafraid American girl who goes into the intricacies of international politics.

Mr. Chatterton made a "Prince Charming" both as to appearance and acting and the balcony scene in the third act was an especially pretty bit of stagecraft. Henry Testa essayed the role of General Marlanx of the Graustark army and Edward Barton, who shows a remarkable versatility, was at home in his role of Lieut. Quinnox. Miss Rose Cameron was clever in her part of Princess Yette.

The play was nicely costumed and all the minor roles were well given.

BILL CHANGED FOR THURSDAY.

Announcement has been made by the Nancy Boyer stock company of a change of bill for Thursday night. It had been previously arranged to give "The Morals of Marcus" but by request the company will play a favorite here. "At Cozy Corners." In this play the company has an excellent opportunity to display its abilities.

Press Agent Says:

Auditorium.

This evening Miss Boyer offers her greatest dramatic success, "Leah Kleschna," the girl thief of Paris, as produced by Minnie Maddern Pike in the intense Fiske role appears at her very best, giving an excellent portrayal of the wayward girl of Paris. Her scene in the second act with Mr. Chatterton, when she is detected robbing the safe, here scene with the Minister of Police in the third act; her denunciation of her father and his associates in the fourth, and her complete redemption which takes place in the lettuce fields of Austria are the great scenes of the play in which Nancy ably demonstrates her extraordinary dramatic powers.

Mr. Chatterton is seen in a most congenial role, as is Messrs. Testa, Barton Hyde, Willard and Misses Cameron and Nelson.

Beautiful and accurate scenery is used in the production which ranks with anything Miss Boyer has ever offered in Newark.

Wednesday matinee, "Leah Kleschna" will be repeated and Wednesday evening "Clothes" is underlined, with "Merely Mary Ann," "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "At Cozy Corners" and "Beverly of Graustark," to follow.

Galvani, Hypnotist.

Galvani, the mysterious hypnotist, appears at the Auditorium theatre for an engagement of two nights commencing March 19. Upon the opening day of Galvani's stay in this city he will make his famous blindfolded drive starting from some point to be announced later and securely blindfolded will drive a team of spirited horses through the principal streets and will discover unaided a number of articles which have been hidden previously by some of the leading citizens of the city. Galvani is positively the only man who makes this drive with this remarkable success.

While his entertainments give a new sight into the mysterious hypnotism as recognized from a scientific standpoint there is also much fun introduced, so much that the audience laugh, cry and scream with delight.

The Orpheum.

The new bill which opened at the Arcade theatre yesterday, proved to be a good one and every act a feature which was well liked and heartily applauded by every patron.

The Farinelli Trio, Italian musicians, offered a treat that is far above the average musical act. It is composed of two gentlemen and a lady, and every member has an excellent voice, which is displayed in the rendition of all their song numbers, both popular and rag-time. The boys are also very clever on a number of instruments both string and brass.

Stevenson and Nugent took the house by storm with their eccentric talking, singing and dancing act. The comedy is excellent, their songs are snappy and their dancing is the best seen here in a long time. Hagen and Westcott were also a big hit in their classy singing and dancing. Both have excellent voices and a splendid variety of songs. Miss Westcott is a very attractive lady with a pleasing personality and was quite a favorite.

Rauf, the wire king, soon showed his audience how he won his name. On the slack wire he performed feats almost unimaginable. He dines on the wire, rides one wheel of a bicycle, juggles and does all the stunts and all the while smoking a cigarette. You cannot afford to miss this bill. The Orpheumscapo has an excellent film.

TO STAY IN WAGNER'S HOME.

Zurich, Switzerland, March 12.—It is announced that the German emperor, during his visit here next September, will stay at the Villa Wessendonck, once the residence of Richard Wagner.

LITTLE BOY WANDERED AWAY FROM HIS HOME

Franklin Patterson, the three-year-old son of Mr. Mrs. Herbert Patterson of Elmwood avenue, wandered away from home Monday noon and the neighborhood was soon engaged in a frantic search for him.

The tiny tot decided he would go to meet his father, who is a teacher at the High school. Mr. Patterson was delayed and the small boy wandered down the street and started across the square. Here he became bewildered. Ernest Trace noticing the child, who was clothed in a gingham romper without coat or hat, asked him where he was going, and he said "To meet father." The child then started off and Mr. Trace followed him.

He became cold and began crying. The "Y" team will go to Plain City taken to Kuster's cafe and an effort made to locate his parents. Finally he told them his name was Patterson and that he lived on Elmwood avenue. He was placed in a machine and taken to his home where the neighbors were trying to give assistance to the frantic mother.

OHIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

A good commercial orchard is worth $1000 an acre.

Scotland's wheat yield averages 43 bushels per acre.

The Official Bulletin of this department may be had for the asking.

There are over 700 brands of commercial fertilizer sold in Ohio.

Good seed and good drainage will give birth to a fat bank account.

The frost is God's harrow. Plow early.

Cloids produce no crop or crown. Plow deep and early.

"Which variety of wheat possesses superior milling value?" This question was sent to Ohio grain dealers and Ohio millers. The answers showed that the Pool, Fultz and Mediterranean varieties were strong favorites, not only with the grain dealers, but with the millers also.

"Does the mixing of all varieties of wheat in a car affect the price paid to the farmer?" One hundred and thirty-six grain dealers said yes and 55 said no. Forty-nine millers said yes and 7 said no.

Farmers could add five cents to the price of wheat per bushel by growing one variety in the same community so as to ship car load lots of one variety.

Millers and grain dealers both agree that dirt and weed seeds in wheat tend to lower the price fixed for a community. The good quality mixed with poor quality brings the price down to fit the poorer quality.

Better standards and higher quality in a whole community will soon establish a reputation that will win better prices for the products of that community.

"Are what and corn injured by too early harvesting?" One hundred and seventy grain dealers said yes and 41 said no. Thirty-six millers said yes and 11 said no.

Ninety-six per cent of Ohio wheat is of the red variety. Its market price the state over is 3 cents higher than that paid for white wheat, and in some places it sells for 10c. more per bushel.

Both millers and grain dealers agree that yellow corn is preferred to white for milling purposes and the price is from 1 to 5 cents higher per bushel.

To produce one barrel of flour requires 4 bushels and 23 pounds of wheat No. 1; of No. 2, 4 bushels and 43 pounds are required; of wheat No. 3, 5 bushels and 10 pounds are required. The average price of flour per barrel, as reported by grain dealers and millers, for the state, was $4.80.

The "Big Three," Poole, Fultz and Mediterranean varieties of wheat Did you know they were the favorites?

"Is the retail price of flour in fair proportion to price paid to farmer for his wheat?" One hundred and sixty-two grain dealers said yes and 22 said no. Forty-seven millers said yes and 8 said no.

Farmers specializing in other crops tend to reduce the production of wheat in Ohio to such an extent as to materially decrease the amount of business done by grain dealers and millers. Higher prices for wheat will turn the tide.

A bushel of wheat does well to multiply itself by 20 when used in planting. A bushel of corn will multiply itself 200 times or more. Good seed corn this year is cheap at any price.

The Ohio State Fair will pay the expenses of two boys from each county to the fair this year. The boys will be selected much the same as they were last year.

LEAVE DANCE TO KILL SELVES.

Chicago, March 12.—Apparently fulfilling a suicide agreement, Adolph Gerlink, a carpenter, and his sweetheart, Frances Soucek, went to a room in the home of Gerlink's sister last night and turned on the gas. They were found dead in each others arms, clad in the garments they had worn to a dance.

If some people could see themselves as others see them they would wear blinders.

If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush free with each can of enamel only.

Use BLACK SILK METAL POLISH for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily, and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

Eggs are coming in so plentifully this week that the bottom has dropped out of the prices, and today they are selling at 22 cents per dozen. A few years ago people ate eggs during the spring and summer and did without them in the winter. Now they seem to have a craze for them when they are high and do not care so much for them when they are cheap. Grocers tell you their customers buy liberally of eggs at a high price until almost spring, then clutch them are too expensive. After their quick buying it is hard to get them started again.

At the last meeting of the Calliopean Literary society the following interesting program was rendered in the presence of a large number of the members of the society: Essay, M. T. Burnham; paper, J. E. Van Fossent; ex tempore, C. H. Hill; Debate, Art. W. E. Huffman; Neg. C. F. Schropp. The judges decided in favor of the negative.

The Alpha Nu Sigma fraternity initiated the following new members: E. S. Edwards, C. Rowland Wood, and E. H. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gray of Lima, O., who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Clark southwest of the village for the past few days, left for their home Monday.

A. M. Dixon, ex-10, visited old friends in the village the latter part of last week. Mr. Dixon was on his way to Chicago to attend the alumni banquet Saturday. The banquet was planned to greet him as the new B. Y. P. U. secretary.

The farmers in this vicinity are now getting busy preparing for their spring work, and much plowing will soon be done. The indications are that a large crop of corn, oats and potatoes as well as wheat will be grown in this section this season.

Candidates for county officers are beginning to circulate in this part of the county quite freely.

BEECH WOODS

Joe Winegardner of this place and Grace Wilson of Somerset were married in New Lexington several days ago. At a later date they will make their home on a farm east of Somerset.

Roy Brochius entertained the visitors at M. R. Poulton's grocery in Bruno with his phonograph Saturday evening.

W. A. Stultz and Jacob Crist were Lancaster visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Minei Poulton has been confined to her room with illness for the past week.

Ervin Miller has been a victim of nervous indigestion the past few days. "Bub" Lones was a visitor in the vicinity of Zionsville Thursday.

U. G. Buber and family spent Sunday at E. A. Drum and wife.

Mrs. Owen Cover spent Sunday with relatives in Newark.

John Conkier of Lancaster, Democratic candidate for sheriff, was through here several days this week looking after the voters.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You
Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste—children like it. It is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Y. M. C. A. BASKETBALL

Wednesday night will be played the final basket ball game between the Intermediates and Students. This game was postponed several days ago. There is excellent material in both classes and the personnel of the teams is highly recommended. They will play for the championship of the gymnasium. The Students won the first game and the Intermediates the second, and this contest on Wednesday night will be a most exciting affair.

Just a few more games are left on the basketball schedule, and the annual race for the feed will terminate at the end of this month.

The standing of the teams follows:

HOW THE JAPANESE ALWAYS REMAIN SLENDER

PROMINENT SCIENTIST AND TRAVELER DISCOVERS LONG SOUGHT SECRET—REDUCES HIS OWN WEIGHT 100 POUNDS—NO ONE ELSE CAN REMAIN FAT NOW.

How to Reduce Fat One Pound a Day and Then Always Remain Slim—No Drugs, Medicines, Starvation, Diet, Exercising or Apparatus Used. Fluids Simple Home Treatment Works Wonders.

Arrangements Now Made To Have All Stout Readers of This Paper Receive a Free Copy of Dr. Turner's Wonderful Book. It Reduced My Weight 100 Pounds.

On returning from a recent trip, Dr. P. Turner, physiologist, scientist and traveler, who has won fame and world wide renown through his writings and scientific researches, accorded an interview to press representatives who were astounded by his loss of more than 100 pounds of excessive fat since they last saw him. They found it difficult, indeed, to recognize the slender, muscular and perfectly proportioned form of Dr. Turner today, the same man whose only few months ago they knew as a semi-invalid, so enormously fat that he could hardly walk.

When questioned concerning his health and the remarkable change in his appearance, Dr. Turner said that neither illness, medicine, starvation dieting, nor strenuous exercise had caused him to lose so much excess weight. In fact he said that fatty degeneration had eaten into vital organs to such an extent that it would have been foolhardy to even attempt the usual methods of reduction and he was forced to seek other means of escape from his former terrible condition.

On being questioned further, the Doctor said: "When I began to feel the stuffy, cramped feeling inside, which, as a physician, I recognized as the first tell-tale symptoms of fatty degeneration, and when my heart pounded and throbbed at times so it shook my whole body and seemed about to burst, I knew from these warnings that the end was approaching very rapidly, although the examining physician of a large Life Insurance Company, when refusing point blank to accept me as a risk, had already told me I was likely to drop dead any minute. I tried every means known to medical science, but without the slightest relief. I then became desperate and began to use all the advertised treatments I ever heard of. These not only failed to help me, but they did considerable harm, one nearly causing my death on account of the powerful drugs it contained. Although a physician, I am strongly opposed to the use of drugs in treating obesity. I have never known a case where they do anything but harm when used for this purpose. The only way to escape my death on the market by persons who are without a physician's training, and I firmly believe that if I had continued one or two of the methods recommended by these ignorant, so-called 'advertising specialists,' I would now be in my grave."

"My discovery came about during my trip and in this way. When seeking data for some literary work, I found a reference to the manner in which the Japanese were said to easily overcome any tendency to take on superfluous flesh. It was easily apparent from observation that the Japanese are comparatively heavy eaters and that their diet consists largely of rice, the most starchy and therefore the most fat forming of all grains. I had often wondered why in spite of these facts, the natives of Japan, both men and women, always present such a slender, trim, neat appearance. Although corsets are rare in that country, the women there have beautiful figures that any American woman might well envy, and the Japanese men have strength and powers of endurance that are proverbial. After diligent inquiry about the cause of this I became more than ever convinced that they were using there in Japan methods of fat reduction and fat prevention far in advance of anything known to medical science in this country. As the finding of such a method was a matter of life or death to me at that time, I consulted numerous authorities and set about asking questions of those who would be likely to know anything about it. I had lost more than 100 pounds in weight, I became stronger with every pound I lost, and soon regained all my old time vigor of both body and mind. It made me feel twenty years younger to be rid of all the fat that had formed inside and outside of my body. After discontinuing the treatment and keeping a careful record of my weight for more than two months I was delighted to find that reduction was permanent, nor has fat shown the slightest tendency to return since then.

"Can you imagine my ecstasy of joy and unexpressed relief at the tremendous load that was lifted from my mind, when after all my suffering I discovered almost by accident this wonderful secret method which enabled me to rid myself of 100 pounds of fat, and which transformed me from a hopeless, helpless wreck into a perfect specimen of physical manhood again. I have now been gladly accepted by the same large insurance company that previously rejected me."

Dr. Turner then went on to explain the treatment he discovered, and while anyone must admit that it is a highly logical method and undoubtedly effective to a wonderful degree, yet it is so simple, that even a child can understand it, and obtain most satisfactory results. Surely no stout person need any longer feel that he or she must remain fat now. Lack of space prevents a full description of the entire method here, but Dr. Turner has described it in a hand-drawn book and extremely interesting little booklet entitled, "How I Reduced My Weight 100 Pounds," and by special arrangement with the Doctor we are able to announce that these valuable booklets, while they last, are to be distributed absolutely free to those of our stout readers who are sufficiently interested to send a two-cent stamp for postage. The books are sent in plain wrapping, and we are told that there are about 1000 left. When these are gone, the Doctor may not have any more printings, so time, and he is planning another long trip, and will probably have no time to give the matter attention again until he returns. The Doctor's address, Dr. P. Turner, M. D., Suite 1291A, Clark Building, Syracuse, N. Y., and any requests sent there, during the next few days, will be given prompt attention. We urgently advise all of our stout readers to obtain this wonderful book and begin reducing weight immediately, as such an opportunity as this may never present itself again.

Away With the Corn Dentist!

"BINGO" Beats Knife and Chisel

Have you a corn, callous, bunion, wart? Use judgment—use "Bingo." Don't try to slice it off or dig it out—don't run risk of infection. Don't let your surgeon cut or sandpaper your feet. How can he know how deep to go without hurting you—without drawing blood? Why pay him more for just temporary relief than a whole bottle of "Bingo" costs (2 bits)? Don't use sticky plasters with their coating of dope to affect surface only—with straps to bulge the stocking—increasing pressure against tender, painful spot—and make you wear larger shoes.

Bingo's better, quicker, safer, more thorough. Get rid of the pain, cure the cause. Always pain and inflammation quick's a wink. Corn or callous shrivels up—you pick it off, throw it away. Harmless to normal skin.

Bingo's 25c at drug stores, or sent direct by Dennison Pharmaceutical Co., 111 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Sold in this city by T. J. Evans, 10 South Second street; C. W. Dounce, 31 West Main street.

GROWTH OF EVIL.

Another present day misconception about sin is that by time and growth men will throw off evil habits and passions. Time is a magician, and growth works miracles, but only upon the acorn, the egg and the babe that begin right. Given a healthy child that is little, growth will make it large and strong, as sage or hero. Given a young thistle, growth will sow the fields with ruin. Given a young, bitter apple, and growth will multiply the bitter bough a thousand times. Given one germ of the plague, growth and time will produce a million deadly germs and a corpse. If the cancer spot is there, make no appeal to time and growth unless you covet death.—Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.

BIG DOCTORS BILL

Man With Sore Feet Spends $700.00 on Them—A True Story.

Vouched for by Levegood and Strickler; druggists of Latrobe, Pa. Here is one of the greatest testimonials I have ever heard:

George Umoklis from Atlantic No. 2, a coal plant, near here bought two packages of EZO and in about three or four weeks he came in and told me that he wanted to have it advertised, and said I am willing to pay all charges, because I want the people to know how good it is. He told me that for seven years he hadn't stood on his feet, he spent $700.00 for doctor bills and he only used one package of EZO, and can run and jump like a boy. He was all smiles about EZO. Evans' Drug Store sells EZO, a refined ointment for sore, aching, weary feet for 25c a jar.

FOR THE UNEXPECTED GUEST

Hospitality Shelf is Now Necessary Adjunct to Every Well Regulated Kitchen Cupboard.

Nowadays no kitchen cupboard is up to date without a hospitality shelf. And the shelf is never bare. Whenever an inroad is made upon it, the loss is supplied again immediately. It holds as generous a collection as possible of canned soups, meats, vegetables, fruits and relishes. Many of these are of the housewife's own putting up, a proud and tempting showing—the rest are the best brands she can buy, so that she has no fear, in using them, of any such injurious consequences of plomaine poisoning.

There are also boxes of gelatine on the hospitality shelf, spices and herbs for flavoring, sifted bread crumbs and a few shelled nuts—all in tightly covered glass jars—and many other little first aids to the hungry peculiar to each individual housekeeper.

Above the shelf hangs a list of easily prepared dishes and recipes—soups, salads, desserts, etc., that have proved favorites of the family or of guests entertained. In the flutter of an emergency it often happens that many an excellent recipe escapes one's memory.

NEW FIRM HAS ASSUMED CHARGE OF THE BUSINESS

With the retirement of George F. Bowers from the firm of Balzer & Bowers, undertakers, Lester N. Bradley succeeds him, and the new firm will be known as Balzer & Bradley. Mr. Balzer, who has been connected with Mr. Bowers for some months in the business has become pretty well acquainted with the people of Newark and vicinity, and has made many friends by his courteous and agreeable manners. Mr. Bradley has had many years experience in the undertaking business having been with Mr. George Markley in his undertaking rooms for many years, while later he was connected with George Bowers for seven years, having been very successful. During the past five years he has been connected with the Pratt-Kirk company as a foreman in one of the departments.

NEWS OF VARIOUS OHIO CITIES

Canton: The contest against the election of Mayor Turnbull may be dropped by the Socialist party. The leaders have asked for a continuance of the hearing. NICE PROMOTION IS RECEIVED BY JNO. F. COSGROVE

Mr. Jno F. Cosgrove, a well known Newark boy, and who served as machinist at the B. and O. shops this city for the past twenty years, has been promoted to general house foreman at Benwood, W. Va. While his many friends regret his departure from their midst, all join in wishing him success and good luck in his new field of labor.

ESTATE WILL REVERT TO STATE

East Liverpool, March 12. — Judge Nathan B. Billingsley, appointed by the circuit court as referee to hear the evidence brought by alleged descendants of eight lines of ancestors, in all 400 alleged heirs, for the $200,000 estate left by Gen. J. W. Reilly of Wellsville, in a long opinion held that none of them had established sufficient proof of relationship to the dead lawyer. He accordingly held that the estate should revert to the state, which decision was made two years ago by Judge W. W. Hole, when it was first heard in common pleas court. Attorneys at the hearing declared they would demand a new trial, but the feeling is strong that the alleged heirs will hardly push the case any further.

ARMOR PLATES ARE OBSOLETE, IS CLAIM OF MAXIM

Pittsburg, March 12. — Hudson Maxim, famed inventor of explosives, startled officials of the Carnegie Steel Co. when, while visiting that armor on battleships is obsolete and in ten years will be a thing of the past.

"Granting that an unarmored battleship would come within range of an opposing fleet," said Maxim, "the armored vessels may as well do without the cumbersome weight, for it is possible to send 14-inch shells through Harveyized and Kruppized armor plate 18 inches thick, as if the steel were so much cheese.

"More than that, the United States battleship today can fire shells that penetrate any known armor plate and explode after passing within a ship. What is the use of armor plate?"
